CRL AT FITSHOW 2019

Firstly, a big thank you to everyone who visited us!

With our newest and most popular systems garnering a great deal of interest, we enjoyed a successful time at the FIT Show 2019 at Birmingham's NEC.

A particular highlight of the exhibition was our brand new CRL Posiglaze and Spig-Lite adjustable glass balustrade systems which respond to the ongoing move towards installations without a handrail. Both systems have been tested to BS6180:2011 standards and generated much interest from visitors who could see a demonstration of the simple and quick way to adjust glass panels with ease.

With the move towards open-plan interiors continuing apace, we launched our Matte Black frame system for sliding doors which conceals all its sliding components within the top track and showcased our latest Langle New York Office System. Both Series are ideal as a method of dividing the various areas of a larger space such as open-plan kitchens and offices, creating a high-end, urban look to any interior design while overcoming practical issues surrounding noise and privacy.

Visitors to the stand were also able to see our latest range of frameless shower door hardware which enable a practically bespoke shower area to be created, in line with current trends towards minimal design (see pages 12-15 for new offers).

Our stand was completed by showcasing our latest array of glass and glazing tools, aimed at making installation and maintenance of glass hardware solutions as simple as possible (see pages 6-11 for new offers).

Simon Boocock, Managing Director at C.R. Laurence comments "Once again, the FIT Show was a very good 3-day event and a great opportunity to showcase all our new products in one place. We received so much positive feedback from new and existing customers."
